“The people are the only sure reliance for the preservation of our liberty.”

Thomas Jefferson

SPIRIT of '76

“A knowledge of the past prepares us for the crisis of the present and the challenge of the future.”

John Fitzgerald Kennedy

“A truly American sentiment recognizes the dignity of labor and the fact that honor lies in honest toil.”

Grover Cleveland

“Don’t give up the ship.”

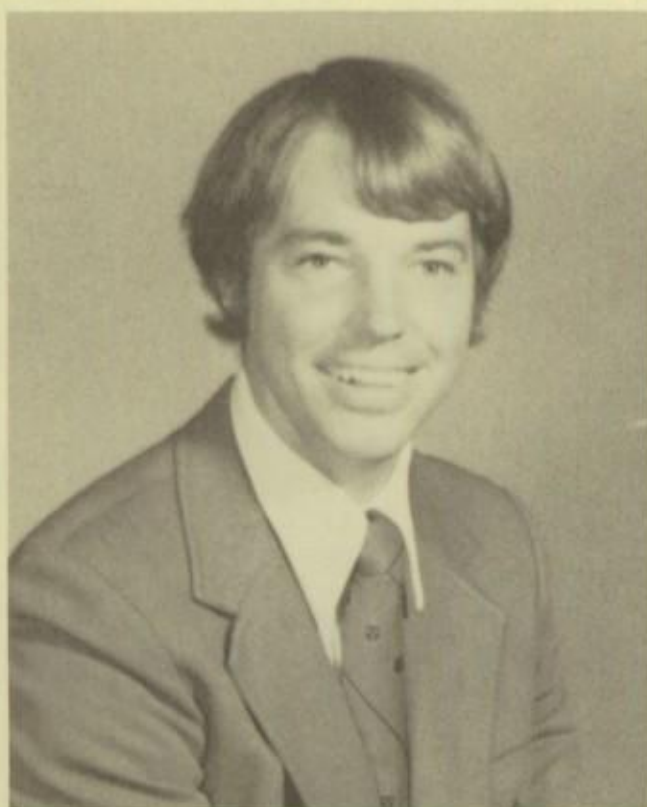

Oliver Hazard Perry

Dedication

Many are the words that could describe the person to whom we dedicate this edition of the PHOENIX. Among them would certainly be

Mischievous, for this person definitely has that quality of being in the midst of uproar at any given time . . .

Responsiveness is another trait, for students can depend upon this person's listening to their problems and striving to meet their needs . . .

Through this active involvement with people, this person is

Respected by both faculty and student body . . .

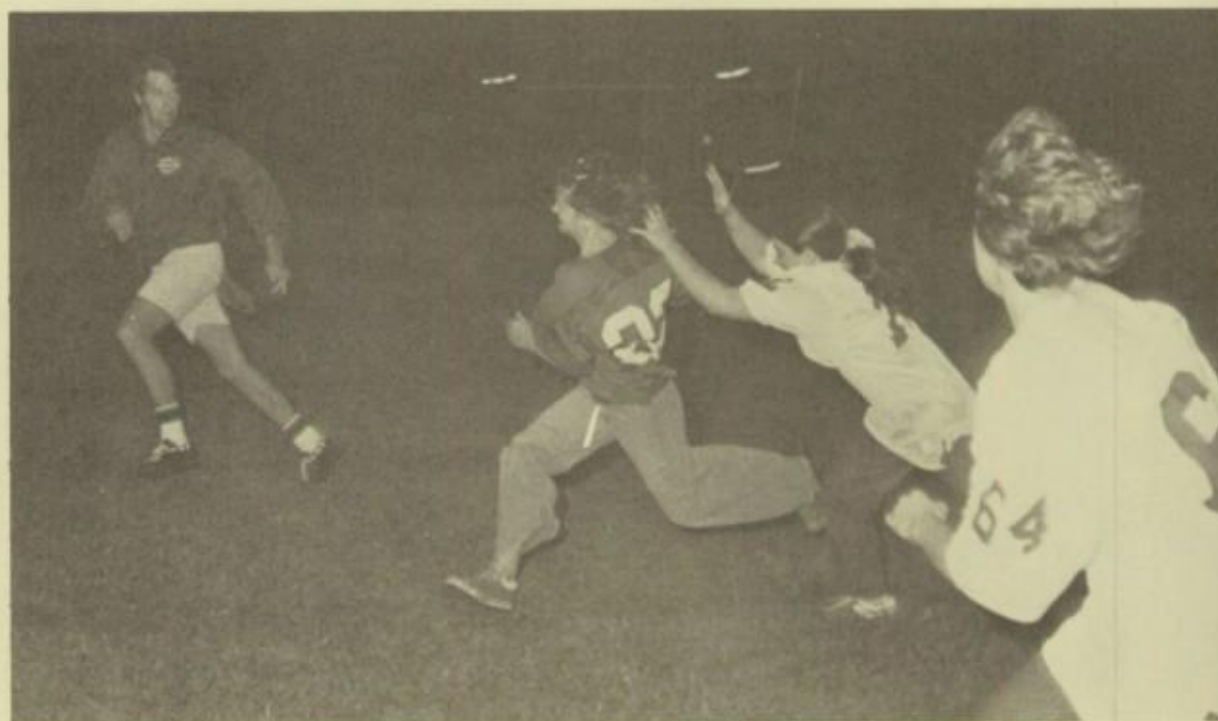

Through the charm of his

Amiable personality, the community of Denton is brought into a renewed spirit of co-operation with the school . . .

And by his example, he shows us why we should feel

Pride in ourselves, our school and our community . . .

For his outstanding contribution to our school in the short time he has been with us, the Senior Class proudly dedicates this edition of the PHOENIX to our Principal, MR. PHILIP RAPP!

In Memoriam

Mr. Lowell Fine

We remember Mr. Fine as a great person and one of the best teachers we have had since we've been in high school. In the short time we were in his classes he always shared his jokes, experiences, and joy with us. We remember him as a happy person, always grinning, always looking for mischief or fun, but never being unkind. His classes reflected the kind of man he was: casual, informal, but dedicated to helping us learn not only agriculture and horticulture, but many other things as well. We'll always remember the little things he did: the jar of peanut butter he kept in his desk drawer, the paper cup he kept handy to spit his tobacco in, the big hat he liked to wear, the slow, easy way he had of talking and moving, and the enjoyment he got from being around people. Yes, Mr. Fine will be remembered for all of this and much more. Especially, we'll remember him and love him for the way he showed his love to us.

The Junior and Sophomore girls (in red) defeated the Senior and Freshmen girls (in white) by a score of 36 to 6; however, the climax of the game was the pileup on one of the referees, Mr. Rapp, the new principal.

Cheerleader — Faculty — Alumni Games Provide an Evening of Fun

The scores are not important; in fact, few remember who won. The important thing was fun for school and community as the cheerleaders and the men of the faculty met teams composed of alumni, visitors, or anyone who could be recruited for the evening. The cheerleaders were reinforced by two "strangers"; under their wigs and make-up were Kirby Matthews and Tim Fritts. In the men's game, one of the benchwarmers got a little over-heated and joined in the fray when he realized that a player on the opposing team was not being guarded. After all, who cared that there was an extra player on the floor when even the referees were not always sure whose side they were on!

PHOENIX Has Small but Dedicated Staff

In the words of Sir Winston Churchill, "Never . . . have so many owed so much to so few." Denton's Senior Class is small. This means that extra-curricular leadership is the responsibility of a few students. But these few could not get the work done apart from the work of many behind the scenes who contributed valuable time to sell ads, take up money for yearbook subscriptions, and help in many other ways. The staff gets most of the credit like generals in an army, but the volunteer helpers, like the foot-soldiers, make the victory possible.

Bicentennial — Theme of BETA CLUB Initiation

Since this was our Bicentennial year, the Beta Club used the Bicentennial theme for initiating their 10 new members: Jan Craven, Virginia Johnson, Janice Hatley, Lisa Hinesley, Tammy Newsom, Orion Rogers, Tammy Allen, Denese Morris, Tami Chappell, and Rosalie Duty.

After being tapped in, the new members were instructed to write a five page theme on their character, and then one day dress in the costume of their historic person. Some characters were those of Ben Franklin, Pocohontas, Clara Barton, and dear ole Abe Lincoln.

It proved to be very much fun and caused everyone to again be remindful of our nation's 200th birthday.

At the annual Fall Festival, sponsored by the P.T.A., the Denton High Beta Club members lent a helping hand. They were in charge of the Bean Bag Throw and the Haunted House. Many children were excited about taking their chances at tossing the bean bags and winning. In the meantime, others were being scared "out of their wits" by Dracula and Frankenstein in the Haunted House.

The clown with his imaginary dog and Santa with presents made an exciting visit to the Beta Club annual Christmas party for the retarded children and young people in the community.

A bicentennial bit:

Historical Davidson County

Davidson County Bicentennial Committee

THERE WERE 93 rural and city schools in Davidson County in 1926. There were 112 primary teachers, 119 grammar grade teachers and 30 high school teachers, a total of 261 teachers. In these schools there were 4,788 primary pupils; 3,978 grammar grade pupils and 754 high school pupils, a total of 9,520 pupils in the county school system.

From the "Centennial History of Davidson County," 1927, Dr. Jacob C. Leonard, editor.

THE FIRST 200 YEARS

A knowledge of American history is an invitation to experience the accomplishment, drama, tragedy and hope of an infant nation struggling to grow up. Sturdy, determined pioneers hacked away at the edges of a raw continent and, with blunders and achievements alike, modeled a country with a spirited nature and a united commitment to individual liberty for every one of its citizens. Americans, great and not so great, have given us a heritage to carry on and improve upon. Farmers and soldiers, industrialists and merchants, dreamers and leaders, are all there in two centuries of progress.

But the maturing isn't finished. You'll find the boundaries of growth as endless today as when our forefathers first envisioned them. You can seek out your own destiny with the wisdom and judgement which comes with re-creation of the past. Your knowledge, dreams and industry will carry on through many more centuries of living history.

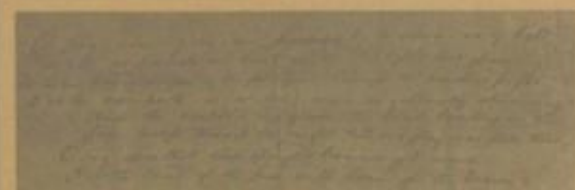

"Everything that is right or reasonable pleads for separation. The blood of the slain, the weeping voice of nature cries, 'tis time to part.'" — Thomas Paine.

CHAPTERS OF AMERICAN HISTORY

The Stamp Act of 1765 was an attempt by England to tax items that were wholly American. The colonists reacted in seething resentment which erupted into angry protestations. The first blood of the American Revolution was spilled during one such incident at Boston in 1770. Several Americans lost their lives over a snowball thrown at a British sentry.

In the fight to achieve commerce equality, the United States found itself in a naval war over shipping lanes. Fort McHenry was heroically held during a British naval bombardment, and the stars and stripes still flew after a night of hard fighting. The next morning Francis Scott Key penned the immortal words of what would become the national anthem.

Settlers had to have permanent access to the new lands, so canals and bridges were built to carry stages and wagon trains loaded with machinery destined for settlements in the West. The pioneers foresaw great wealth in the cheap acreage that was available.

Frontiersmen cleared the wilderness, built settlements and drove back the Indians. The Pony Express and the telegraph became primary means of communication.

Agriculture was the wealth of the country. American inventions of the time were often related to working the soil. The McCormick Reaper, mowing machines, textile looms and the cotton gin were instrumental in the settling of new frontiers.

In 1848, James Marshall found gold in the race of a sawmill he was building for John Sutter at Coloma, California. The lust to "get rich quick" was the force behind this biggest and gaudiest gold rush ever.

While "gold rush fever" gripped the country, states were increasingly more divided on the slavery issue. Civil war broke out in the East. This "Brothers War" was bitterly fought and, though the scars remain even today, slavery was abolished.

Cities grew at an alarming pace; often without regard to the limits of safety. The great Chicago fire of 1871 burned the bustling cattle market empire beyond recognition. But the pioneer spirit was not broken. Chicagoans began rebuilding and preparations were underway to celebrate the 100th birthday of the country.

The "Iron Horse," carrying homesteaders, greatly helped settlement of the new country. The first transcontinental railroad connected the country at Promontory Summit, Utah, on May 10, 1869.

Transportation was setting the pattern for the American way of life. The country became a mobile society with electric trolleys, automobiles, farm machinery, and bicycles, all the rage. Along with the accessibility of travel came a new era of nationalism.

A World War called upon the nation's young men to unite and fight. After the war in Europe, the nation pulled itself together and industry flourished once again. A carefree America buried war memories in the new moving pictures, telephones, light bulbs, electric generators, stock market ticker tape machines, phonographs and a wealth of inventions from the fertile minds of its young inventors. Baseball became the national sport and prohibition was law.

Black Thursday, October 24, 1929, saw the American stock market crash to the lowest level in history. Panic set in as the unemployment level skyrocketed. The country was in its worst economic crisis. Slowly, but surely, the wounds of the "crash," the "dust bowl," and poverty healed.

The steel industry geared up for the revival while rumors were whispered in the Roosevelt administration of another impending war. The nation's leaders scoffed; until December 7, 1941 Pearl Harbor!

Industrial production reached a peak during the war years. Upon their return from four years of battle, the veterans forged ahead with an eye on a "better life for everyone." Several moderate recessions in the 50's and 60's reminded cautious citizens of past decades.

Huge strides were being taken in the scientific field. Television became a part of every family's life. National events were household topics — while they happened — thanks to the new medium. Individuals and groups were seen "on the tube" as they advocated new social reform, or justice, or special causes of their own. TV gave individuals and political systems power greater than ever before. Audio-visual journalism had made its impact.

Nearly 100 years of struggling for civil liberties were realized when President Lyndon Baines Johnson signed the Civil Rights Act of 1964 into law. The Act outlawed segregation in any form.

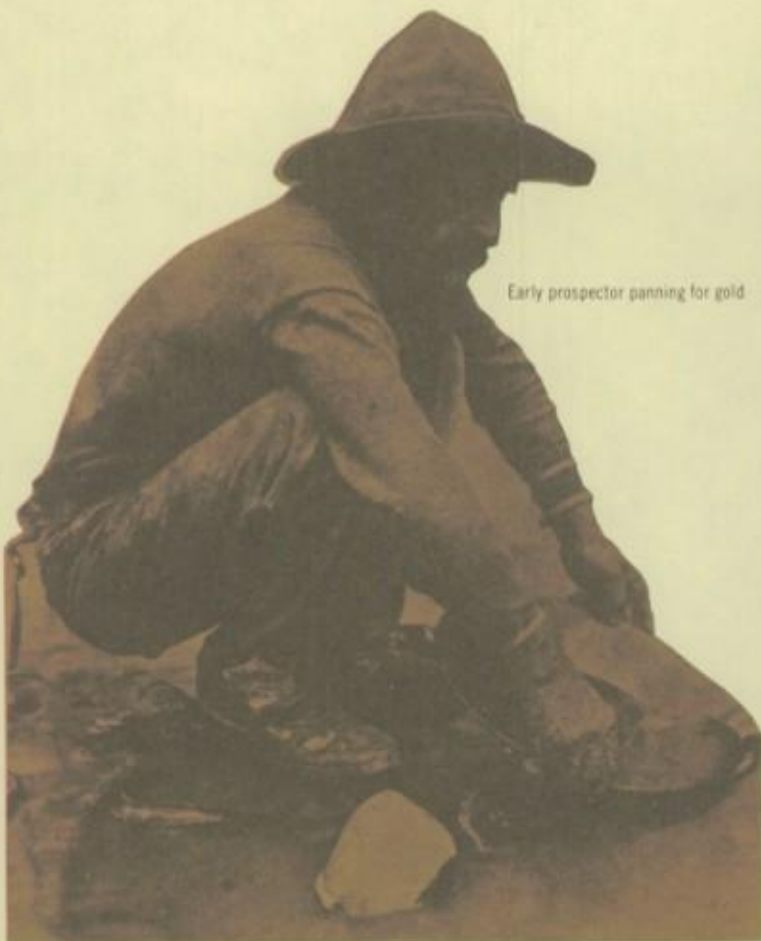

The seventies shed light on a new trouble for the nation as it approached its 200th birthday. The world's energy sources and natural resources were being used up faster than they could be replenished. Americans once again waded into a new frontier. The "energy crisis" and "ecology" were prominent words in the language. Ways to save nature from the neglect of mankind and ways of preserving precious fuel without damaging that balance of nature were the objectives of Americans across the country.

Earth's crises spurred Americans into further pioneering. This time — outer space. American astronauts were the first on the surface of the moon and the U.S. was first to build a "sky-lab" for more scientific study.

American is still learning and growing after a mere 200-year infancy. The original determination of our forefathers was told again in the words of Neil Armstrong as he made the first step on the moon — "a small step for man, but a giant step for mankind."

THE CHANGING NATION

Ownership of land had been just a dream to most of the colonists from feudal England. With the great expanse of cheap land opening up in the West, the dream became reality.

The Louisiana Purchase of 1803 opened the first sizable frontier in the Midwest, but the nation was not ready for it yet. It took a growing market in the East, where land was getting high-priced and scarce, and development of good transportation, to really start the frontier movement.

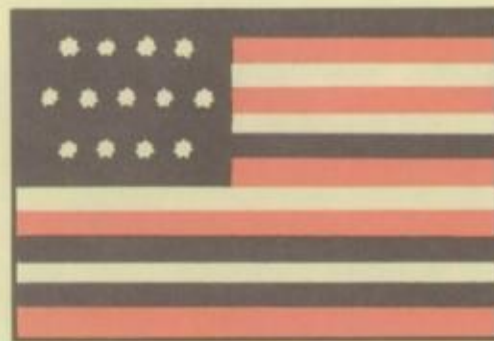

The Gold Rush caused hordes of settlers to take various routes to the Pacific Coast and its yellow riches. The railroads brought farmers and ranchers, along with the miners, who decided to stop all along the routes and build their homes. Railroads were instrumental in the quick civilization of the West, bringing people in numbers so large that the resentful Indians were finally pushed back into unwanted and infertile areas.

America became a haven for immigrants from every nation as freedom beckoned them to the teeming cities of the East, the plains, and the rich west coast farmlands.

Sick of the Civil War and with their own lands divided up and lost, many Southerners set out to "begin again" in the virgin territories. "Westering" soon became the national tradition as North and South moved together toward a new life. Americanism was advanced socially, by the hard-working, bare-fisted types who settled the frontiers.

NECESSITY IS THE MOTHER OF ....

SUBMARINE

DRILL PRESS

PHONOGRAPH

Without realizing it, England instilled in the colonists the individual purpose and ingenuity that necessity breeds. With trade goods cut to a minimum, determined young leaders of the time set out to find ways of surviving without support from the Mother Country.

Agricultural methods and machines and labor saving devices were designed by our forefathers. As frontiers opened, Yankee genius had to conquer natural barriers in the wild new country, so suspension bridges were invented and methods of transportation were perfected for the purpose of opening the untamed areas. Later, they sought to section off the land with the revolutionary and controversial invention — barbed wire.

Cooper's 1-horsepower Tom Thumb train in 1830 and later, automobiles like the first Model T, and the 4-horsepower airplane ; became American modes of travel from city to city and coast to coast.

Americans knew that the fertile lands of this nation would produce unequalled harvests if machines were designed to take over for man. They knew also that trade routes were difficult to travel and manufacturing would have to be done close to home. The cotton gin, textile looms, drill presses and a reaper which could cut six times as much grain as a hand scythe were some of the tools invented.

Protection for themselves and for their young country prodded inventors like Eli Whitney to perfect firearms and others to work on plans for the first submarine. Young inventors like Alexander Graham Bell and Thomas Edison (called the nation's most valuable citizen) visualized machines that would light the country and open up communication with those in the far corners of the nation. The telephone, telegraph, phonograph and the first light bulb were discovered in the late 1800's and early twentieth century. This American way of doing for oneself inspired many to become inventors in their own right. Some sought to save labor and mass-produce for profit while others envisioned not only riches, but excitement and adventure as they discovered ways to defy nature.

Throughout the past 200 years the American mind has been unleashed to take whatever paths necessary to fulfill the needs. In the last half-century, the pace of discovery has been overwhelming and inventions for the taming of the universe lie in the grasp of America while the habit of "finding a way" is ingrained in its people. The seeds of industrial America were sown by these inventors resulting in today's mechanized society.

THEY MADE THEIR MARK

Men and women who helped shape America's history

THOMAS PAINE, a bankrupt Quaker corsetmaker, sometime teacher, preacher and grocer wrote the most brilliant pamphlet of the American Revolution. His words in Common Sense reflected longings and aspirations that have remained part of American culture to this day.

DANIEL WEBSTER chose law as a career and went on to become well-known in the courts and in politics. He was twice Secretary of State with an eye always to the Presidency which eluded him.

DOROTHEA DIX worked her entire adult life for reform of the existing penal and mental institutions in the mid-1800's. The first state hospital in the nation at Trenton, New Jersey was a direct result of her efforts.

The creator of the Cherokee alphabet, SEQUOYAH, was an artist, writer and silversmith. He used a simple 1821 English primer to compose the characters. The famous redwood trees of the Pacific coast bear his name.

Chief Justice JOHN MARSHALL established fundamental principles of American constitutional law. He is noted for his precedential declaration of a Congressional act as unconstitutional. He served through five administrations, from 1801-1835.

Born a slave in Maryland, FREDERICK DOUGLASS taught himself to read and write secretly and, at 21, escaped to freedom. He was an ardent abolitionist campaigning successfully for Negro suffrage and civil rights.

"The New Colossus," a sonnet composed by EMMA LAZARUS in 1883 is inscribed on a bronze tablet at the base of the Statue of Liberty. She organized relief for Jews and helped fugitives from the Czar's ghettos to establish homes in America.

AMELIA JENKS BLOOMER, best known for a mode of dress she adopted during her campaign for equal rights for women. Though ridiculed until she gave up the costume, the term "bloomer" came to symbolize woman's bid for individual freedom.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN epitomized the American dream of a humble young man ascending to the highest office of the land. He was superbly skilled at analyzing complex issues and translating them into meaningful words for the public. He was devoted to the preservation of the Union.

HARRIET BEECHER STOWE wrote Uncle Tom's Cabin in an effort to make the whole nation realize the inhumanity of slavery. Her book resulted in one of the most popular and controversial plays on the American stage. The Civil War was kindled by this work.

HORACE GREELEY'S admonition to "Go West young man" was a rallying cry of the pioneers of America. He was founder and editor of the New York Tribune. He was best known for his philosophy of social reform and his unsuccessful bid for the Presidency in 1872.

JOSEPH PULITZER was the first journalist to reach a truly massive audience. His New York World newspaper was the symbol of "yellow journalism" with its sensationalism aimed at the common man.

ANDREW CARNEGIE was a giant in the railroad and steel industries. He believed that it was the duty of a rich man to distribute his wealth during his lifetime. To that end, he established 2800 libraries and many cultural halls throughout America.

A lifetime passion for machinery led HENRY FORD to Detroit where, in 1896, he completed his first motor vehicle. The Ford Motor Company manufactured the first "Model T" in 1909.

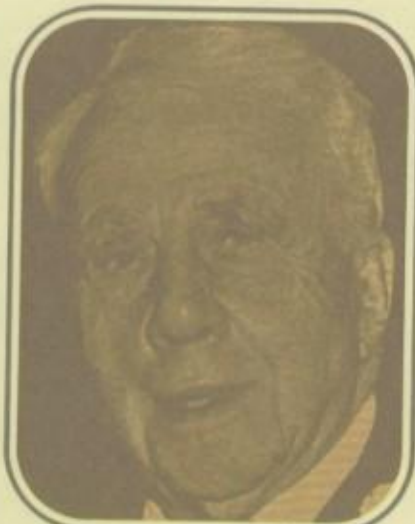

One of the most elementary symbols of the American way of life was established when J. EDGAR HOOVER and his Federal Bureau of Investigation "G-men" set out to clean up the country. His career spanned over 40 years.

The motion-picture industry was revolutionized in America and DAVID WARK GRIFFITH became known as the "Father of the film art" and "king of directors" for his part in this revolution. His camera techniques were the pioneering steps of the industry.

Serving an unprecedented four terms as President of the United States, FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT was a popular leader who made extensive use of fireside radio chats to explain his plans and generate enthusiasm to push them through Congress.

ROBERT FROST's poetry was clear, understated, well-metered and told the stories of rural America. He was a four-time winner of the Pulitzer Prize and has been called America's poet laureate.

A plain, homely woman with tremendous appeal to the masses, who was always in the "thick of things" describes ELEANOR ROOSEVELT and her lifetime of politicking beside her husband during his four terms.

THURGOOD MARSHALL is the first Negro to serve as a justice of the Supreme Court. His law career was aimed primarily at civil rights cases.

The crippling poliomyelitis was conquered by DR. JONAS SALK in 1953 after more than 25 years of research. Polio was reduced by 96% in less than ten years. SALK's research continues in California at the Salk Institute.

MARTIN LUTHER KING was a leader in the cause of civil rights. He had been a pastor before turning to the cause of segregation. His leadership earned him the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964. He was assassinated by James Earl Ray in 1968.

Lieutenant Colonel JOHN GLENN started America's travels to outer space when he became the first American to orbit the earth. He had been an aviator in World War II and a test pilot in peacetime.

GERALD R. FORD, the first President to achieve the office without an election. In 1974, through a series of scandalous events, the Nixon administration toppled and FORD reached the position through approval by Congress.

Imagine buying that acre of land you have spotted for $1.25! Or, even at the higher price of $10. Those are the prices offered to our founding fathers to encourage settlement of the wilderness areas of this nation.

A stage wasn't the most comfortable way to go, but you could get from city to city for as little as $3 — at the amazing pace of six miles per hour.

Compare today's wages with a 12-hour day in the early 1800's. A man earned 50¢ a day. Of course his dollar bought a little more than today's. Butter in 1826 was about 5¢ lb. in the Midwest; eggs, 3¢ doz.; corn 6¢ bu.; wheat, 25¢ bu.; and a cow could be bought for $5.

With travel becoming the American tradition, you could choose train, wagon, horseback or the water. A canal ride, with bed and board included, averaged 3 or 4¢ per mile. And when you reached your destination, you could sit down to a 5, or even 10 course meal for 25¢. (Ladies 20¢, in consideration of appetite.)

Farmers in the early 1800's could own the famous McCormick Reaper for a mere $100. But the Civil War increased prices as the machine became the first item farmers could buy on time payments for the sum of $1,500.

A good suit of clothes then might cost $1.95 and ladies waists (blouses) were marketed for 49¢ to $3.50 with a whole dress pattern priced at 15¢.

Cookstoves, "quality-satisfaction guaranteed," could cost you $29.25 at $4 per month and a dandy heating stove could set you back as much as $5.73 and up. The first electric refrigerator cost $900 — which might be enough to make you faint on your 1907 fainting couch that had cost a mere $7.85.

Your new baby travelled in the height of fashion in a wicker sleeping coach (stroller) for the sum of $12.04. If you had $1,500 in 1903 you could show off in one of the first automobiles.

Ah, those were the days. Some of the current prices are reminiscent of those days, but at frontier prices, which were a whole different story. Hardy pioneers had to pay $2 a pound for sugar, too. And the same for a pound of coffee or pepper. Those items were only 15¢ per pound back in civilized St. Louis. Flour was marked up 100 times for sale to the frontiersmen and during the famous Gold Rush, that precious commodity went for $400 a barrel.

ARCADE,

OPEN throughout the day, and ILLUMINATED every evening.

Admittance 25 Cents.

This Museum is the oldest and largest establishment in the United States, and contains immense collections of the Animal and Mineral Kingdoms of nature, from all parts of the world. These are all beautifully arranged, so as to enable the visitor to study the objects with the greatest advantage. The collection of implements and ornaments of our aboriginal tribes is very extensive and interesting, and the Cabinet of Antiquities, and Artificial Curiosities, is not less worthy of attention. In addition to the ordinary attractions of a Museum, there is in this a very large collection of the Portraits of American Statesmen and Warriors of the Revolution, and of the most distinguished scientific men of Europe and America.

The Founder, C. W. Peale, desirous of securing the Museum permanently in this city, obtained an act of Incorporation, by which the stability of the Institution is insured. The act of Incorporation secures the use of the Museum in perpetuity to the city, and authorizes the Stockholders to appoint annually five trustees, who meet quarterly to regulate the business of the Institution. Nothing can be removed from the Institution under a penalty, and forfeiture of double the value of the thing removed; hence, donations may be made with certainty on the part of the donors, that the articles placed in the Museum will always remain for the public good.

Mr. Ronald Kepley

A new-comer to Denton High and teaching Agriculture is Mr. Ronald Kepley. He also sponsors the FFA.

Before coming here, he taught at North Davidson Junior High for three years.

Mr. Kepley says, "I have really enjoyed these few weeks at Denton. At a small school you have an opportunity to know the students on a personal basis." In commenting on his impressions of Denton, Mr. Kepley added: "The students are friendly, and many show a desire to learn."

Mr. Kepley says that he became a teacher because "I was interested in helping young students to develop into productive young adults."

Hunting, fishing, and watching North Carolina State University's (his alma mater) basketball games are Mr. Kepley's hobbies.

We have a teacher in our school who says, "I got 'roped' into it when there was a teacher shortage and found I dearly loved working with students and seeing their growth." Mrs. Helen Loftin graduated from UNC-Greensboro and previously taught at Grimsley Senior High, Greensboro.

Most Faculty Members Agree Small Schools Have Many Advantages

Our Home Economics and Family Life Education teacher, Mrs. Loftin says she believes "There is a closeness in a small school and a personal concern that isn't found in the large schools."

Sponsoring the FHA Club, Mrs. Loftin leads the girls in many activities, including attending rallies, entertaining their mothers at an annual Mother-Daughter Banquet, and repairing broken toys for distribution at Christmas.

In her spare time (if any), Mrs. Loftin enjoys working with flowers, shrubs, and any type of arts and crafts, sewing and music.

A graduate of Meredith College, Mrs. Frances Baker also attended Wake Forest University and UNC-Chapel Hill. Before Denton, she taught at Snow Hill High School, Southport High School, and Apex High School. When asked why she decided to become a teacher, she answered, "As early as I can remember, I wanted to become a teacher. Sunday afternoons found me teaching my dolls the Sunday School lesson. When I was a child in elementary school, playground periods were spent 'playing school' with me often the teacher."

Mrs. Baker is teaching English I, but her primary job is that of Media Specialist; from November through January much of her time is spent with the annual staff. Her other duties include serving as Senior Class sponsor.

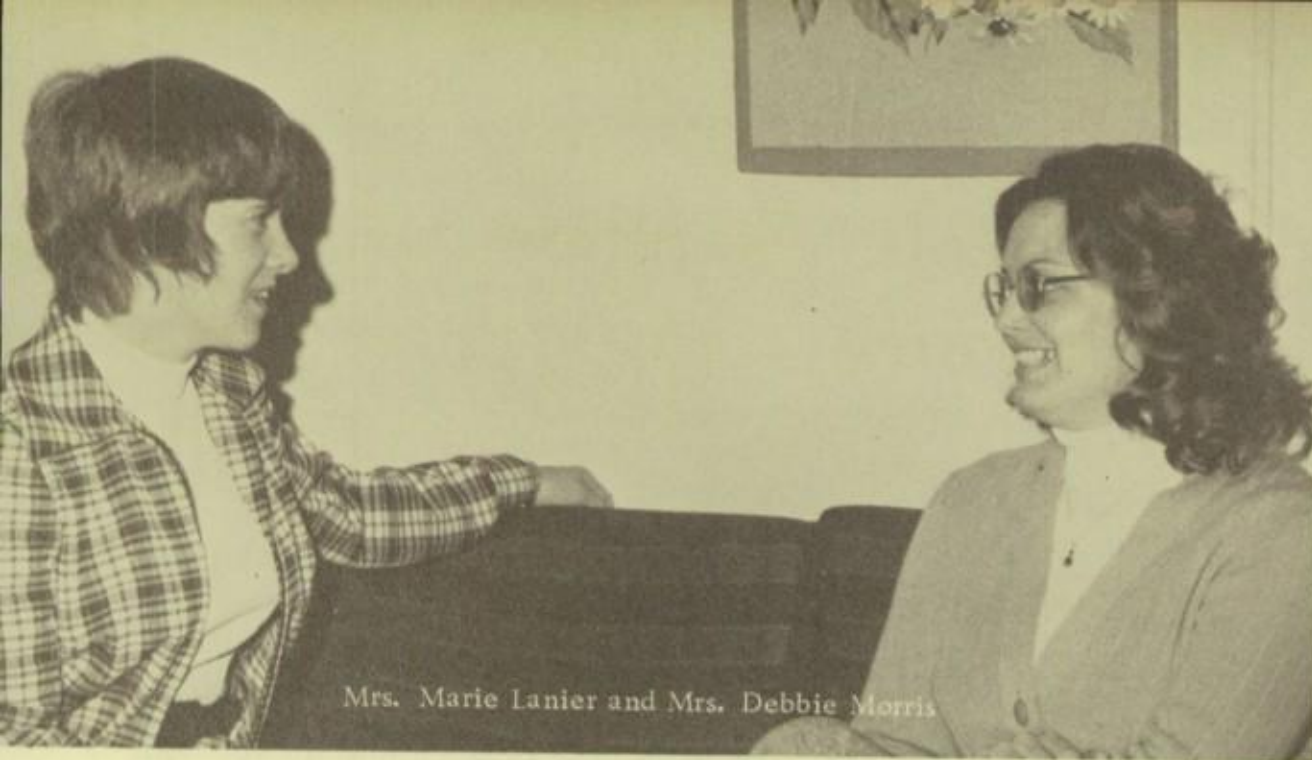

When asked her views on a small school, she replied, "I like the personal contacts with students, and knowing them as individuals. I feel that knowing the home situations makes for a better understanding of students and any problems they might have. This would not be possible in a large school. To me, this personal contact off-sets any disadvantages of a small school."

Mrs. Baker's interests outside of school include traveling, needlepoint, reading, and photography. "I have always enjoyed my work with students, and whenever I don't, I plan to quit! A job should be something to enjoy-not just a job or drudgery."

Mrs. Helen Loftin and Mrs. Frances Baker

Mrs. Marie Lanier and Mrs. Debbie Morris

Mrs. Marie Lanier, a graduate of UNC-Greensboro, teaches Advanced Biology, Physical Science, and General Biology.

Teaching here since 1962, Mrs. Lanier says, "The smallness gives everyone an opportunity to take part in school activities." She also commented that "The teachers know their students better than in large high schools."

Her extra-curricular activities include sponsoring the Junior Class and supervising the basketball concession stands. Vegetable and flower gardening are Mrs. Lanier's hobbies. Baseball and basketball are also favorite past-times. She stated that she enjoys being with her family most of all.

Mrs. Debbie Morris attended UNC-Greensboro and graduated from UNC-Charlotte. One and a half years after starting her teaching career at Southwest Randolph, she came to Denton.

When asked why she liked or disliked a small school, she replied, "I like the friendly, easy going atmosphere of a small school. I believe we have fewer social problems. I think the greatest problem in a small school is the large amount of gossip that's perpetrated by students and adults."

Mrs. Morris teaches English I, English II, and Sociology. She is also a Junior Class sponsor, and is in charge of instructional supplies.

Her hobbies are reading, cooking, and tole painting.

Mr. Wayne Miller, a graduate of UNC-Chapel Hill (A.B. in Education) and UNC-Charlotte (M.Ed. in Guidance and Counseling), has spent all seventeen years of his teaching career at Denton High.

When asked why he decided to become a teacher, Mr. Miller said, "I admired most of my teachers throughout my pre-college years and felt that teaching would be an exciting and worthwhile career. I have remained in teaching because I have developed a genuine love for young people and feel that the opportunities offered by this profession for understanding and respect between students and teachers makes this career rewarding."

He commented concerning a small school: "Having attended both large and small high schools, I can say with no reservations that I prefer the small. The friendly atmosphere and the almost family-type relationships among students and faculty far outweigh some of the advantages of the large school. The student receives more individual attention, and he has more opportunity to take an active part in extra-curricular activities. While courses offered in our school are somewhat limited, we, nevertheless, are able to offer most courses students want or need.

Serving as Guidance Counselor, teaching an art class, and helping sponsor the Senior Class keep him very busy. However, he still finds time "to sketch with pencil and charcoal, paint with acrylics, hunt, play basketball, read novels, work cross-word puzzles, watch TV when there are good programs, and practice on my autoharp."

Denton has a well schooled vice-principal/teacher who graduated from High Point College and has done graduate study at Appalachian, East Carolina, UNC-Chapel Hill, and UNC-Charlotte. The mystery man is . . . Mr. Jerry Koontz, ("Captain").

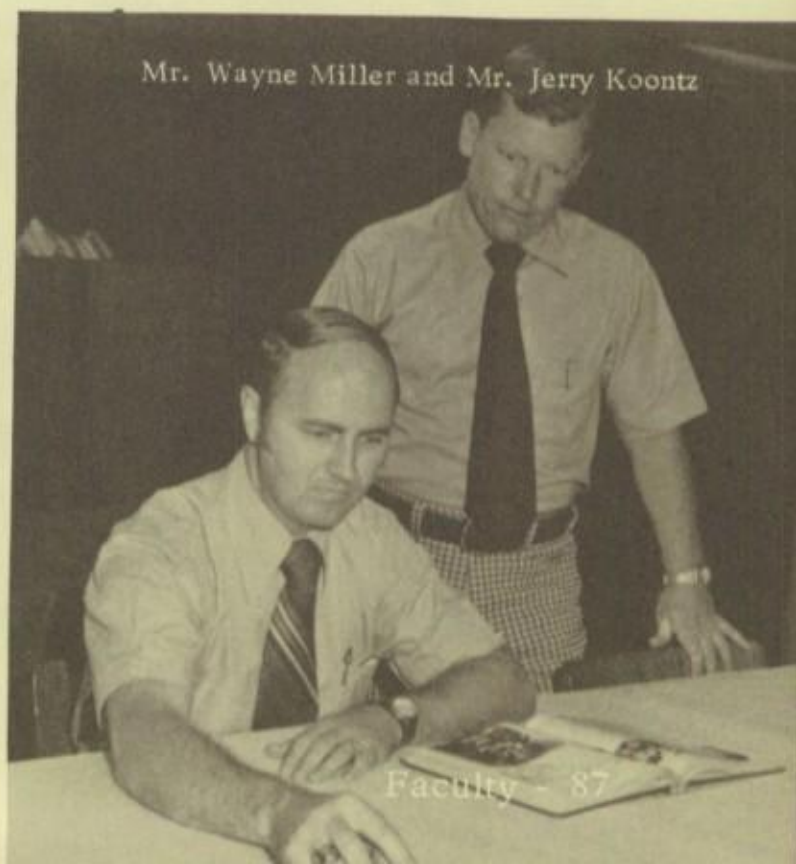

All fourteen years of Mr. Koontz's teaching experience has been at "Good ole DHS."

One of the factors determining his decision to become a teacher was the influence of his own teachers.

Mr. Koontz likes teaching in a small school because there is a "better relationship with students, smaller classes (individual attention) and a better learning environment."

Teaching Advanced as well as Freshman Physical Education, World History, and U.S. History, he is also sponsor for the Student Council and is in charge of buses and textbooks.

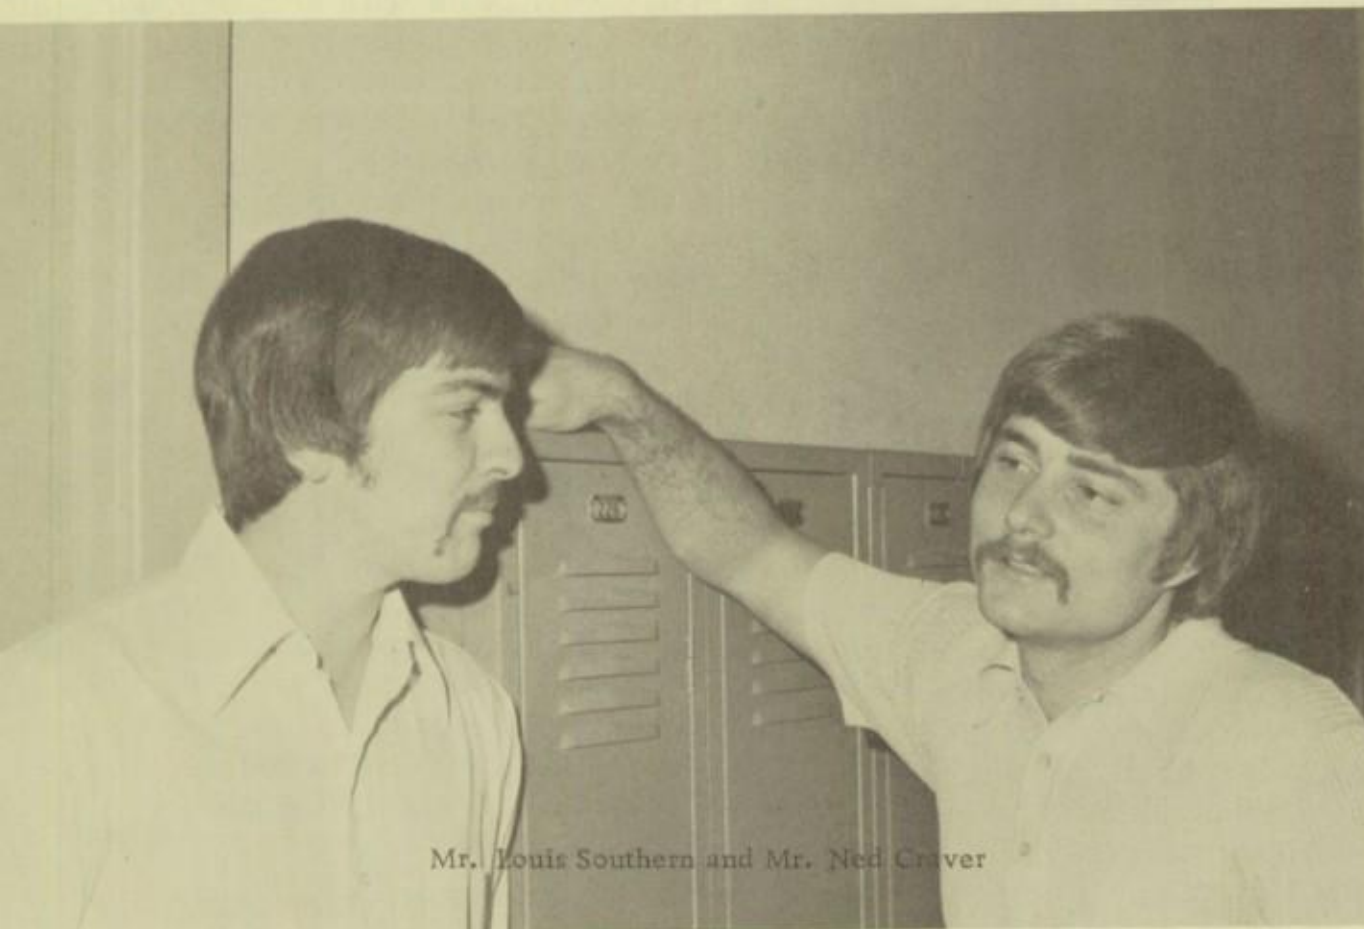

Mr. Koontz's hobbies are hunting and guns. His philosophy of life is "'Faith is the word' when things don't go your way."

Mr. Wayne Miller and Mr. Jerry Koontz

Faculty Exhibits Wide Range of Avocations, Interests in Idle Hours

Mr. Louis Southern and Mr. Ned Craver

Teaching General Math, Algebra I, and Consumer Math is Mr. Louis Southern. A graduate of Appalachian State University, Mr. Southern enjoys playing golf and basketball, coaching Junior High basketball, and reading comic books. In addition to these activities, he is also assistant football coach and Pep Club sponsor. He likes teaching in Denton because "In a small school you know all the students; there seems to be fewer disciplinary problems," (Believe it or not!)

Mr. Ned Craver, fondly called by his students "Ned Pig," is a graduate of Pfeiffer College. He became a teacher because he enjoys working with high school age students. Mr. Craver came to Denton because he wanted to teach in a small school where he could get to know his students better. He has been known to say jokingly that the Peace Corps sent him to Denton because it is an "undeveloped country," but his actions disprove this statement.

Mr. Craver's busy schedule includes teaching Geometry, Advanced Math, Physics, Biology and Physical Science, as well as coaching Varsity football and Junior High girls basketball. His hobbies are photography and athletics of all types.

A graduate of Atlantic Christian College, Mrs. Sue Plaster teaches English I, English III and English IV. She is Sophomore Class sponsor and also Beta Club sponsor.

"Temporary insanity" is the term she used in saying why she decided to become a teacher. When asked what previous teaching experiences she had, she replied, "I don't wish to reveal my age."

Her views on a small school: "A small school doesn't offer the advantages of a large school as far as course offerings, instructional materials, etc. are concerned. But a greater percentage of students can participate in activities, and teachers and students get to know each other better."

Mrs. Plaster's hobbies include sewing and embroidery when she can find time away from her school duties, but her first real concern is her family.

Mr. Wayne Plaster attended Atlantic Christian College and University of East Carolina. His previous teaching experiences include one year in Nansemond County, Virginia; two years in Terrell County, and three years in Warren County, North Carolina.

When asked why he decided to become a teacher, he replied: "Because I love coaching and teaching sports."

Mr. Plaster teaches Advanced Physical Education, Freshman Girls and Boys Physical Education and World History.

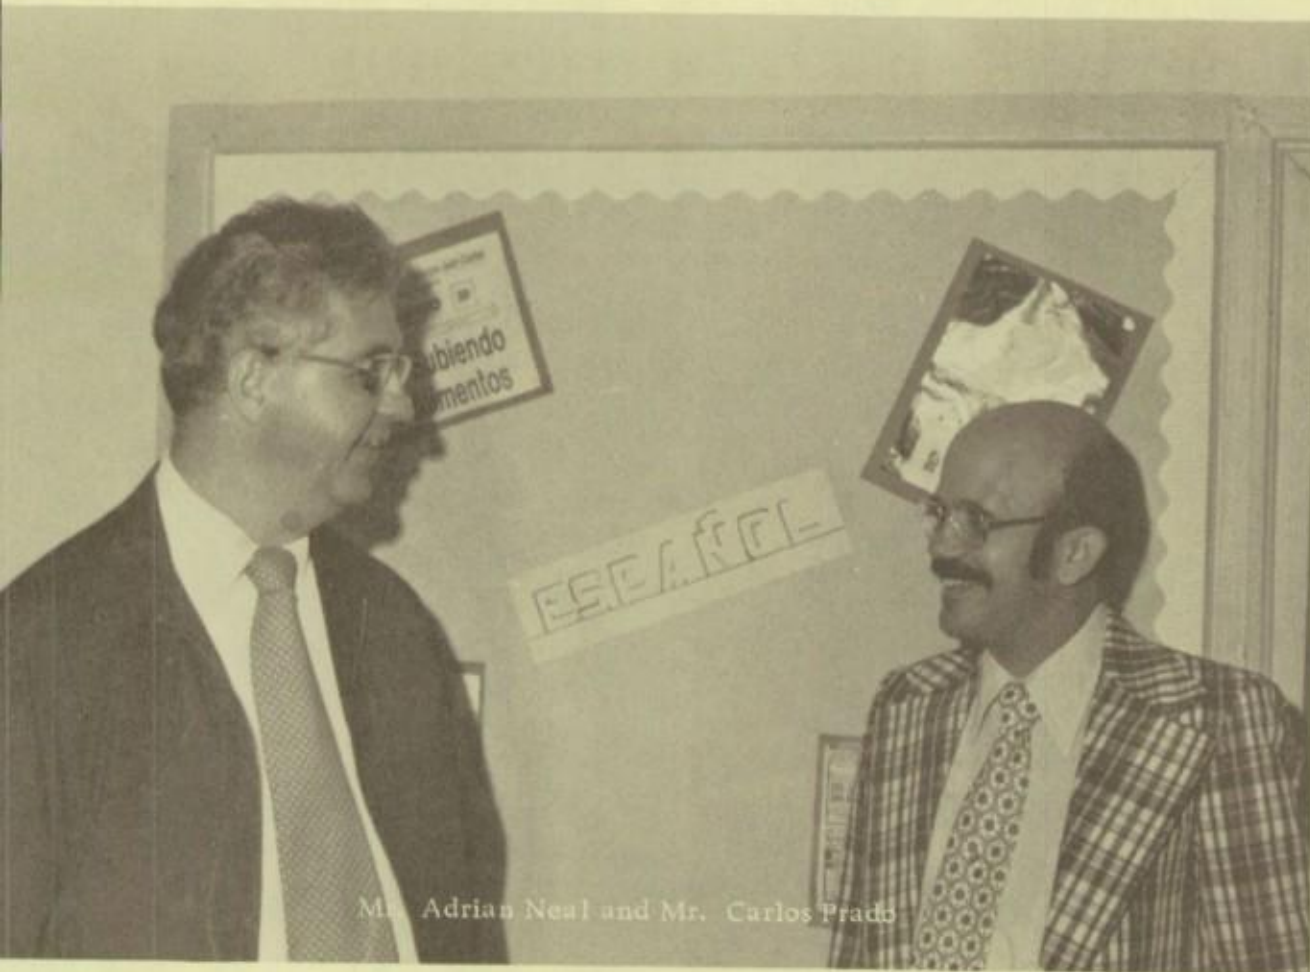

He coaches both Girls' and Boys' Varsity Basketball teams, as well as Baseball. In addition to these activities, Mr. Plaster sponsors the Monogram Club and the American Patriotism Club.

Some of Mr. Plaster's hobbies and interests are cooking, reading and writing poetry, listening to good music, and vegetable gardening.

Mrs. Sue Plaster and Mr. Wayne Plaster

Mr. Adrian Neal and Mr. Carlos Prado

Mr. T. Adrian Neal, the Typing, Accounting, and World History teacher, is a graduate of High Point College, and University of North Carolina at Greensboro, and has done additional graduate work at Appalachian, East Carolina and Chapel Hill. Mr. Neal has previously taught one year in Guilford County, three years in Randolph County, and twenty years at Denton High.

Mr. Neal said he became a teacher "to fulfill my calling; to be of service to youth; I enjoy working with young people."

Mr. Neal likes Denton because he feels "A small high school has many advantages a larger school does not and cannot have. I like the feeling of closeness in helping students learn. Most students are cooperative and intelligent and respond to their opportunity better."

In addition to his other duties, Mr. Neal is Sophomore Class advisor, advisor of the DENTONIAN, NCAE building representative, County Chairman of the NCAE-PACE Committee.

Mr. Carlos Prado is a graduate of the University of Havana, Havana Masonic University, Havana Conservatory of Music, and High Point College.

He has previously taught at Central Davidson High School and Linwood Elementary School.

When asked his reason for becoming a teacher, Mr. Prado said, "I like to work with youngsters, see them become useful men and women; help them, in what little measure I can."

Mr. Prado likes a small school because there is "a greater rapport between students and teachers. I feel that in Denton School we are like a big family; we know each other and we feel for each other."

Mr. Prado teaches Band, Chorus, and Spanish. His other duties include taking the band to parades, having musical programs, and taking the Spanish classes to Foreign Language Festivals.

His hobbies and other interests include reading, listening to classical music, painting and photography.

Teaching Driver Education, or "Survival Science," is Mr. J. E. Sink. With a B.S. degree from High Point College and a M.Ed. degree from Duke University, Mr. Sink has also done post-graduate work at Wake Forest University.

When asked why he became a teacher, Mr. Sink replied, "I thought it would be a place where I could learn while I earned a living."

He enjoys teaching at Denton because the small size of the school and the community enables a teacher to get to know the students, his parents, brothers and sisters. Then, more concern can be shown in his help and interest in that student."

Mr. Sink spends much of his time with photography. He stated that, "In fact, my wife says that it is not a hobby, but a disease. No sooner do I get a new camera or lens than I hear of a better one that I want. I don't get very good trades either. By the way, does anyone want a set of Photography Encyclopedias? I also fish a lot and hunt a little, and would like to do some sailing this next year. Ask me about my last sailing adventure!"

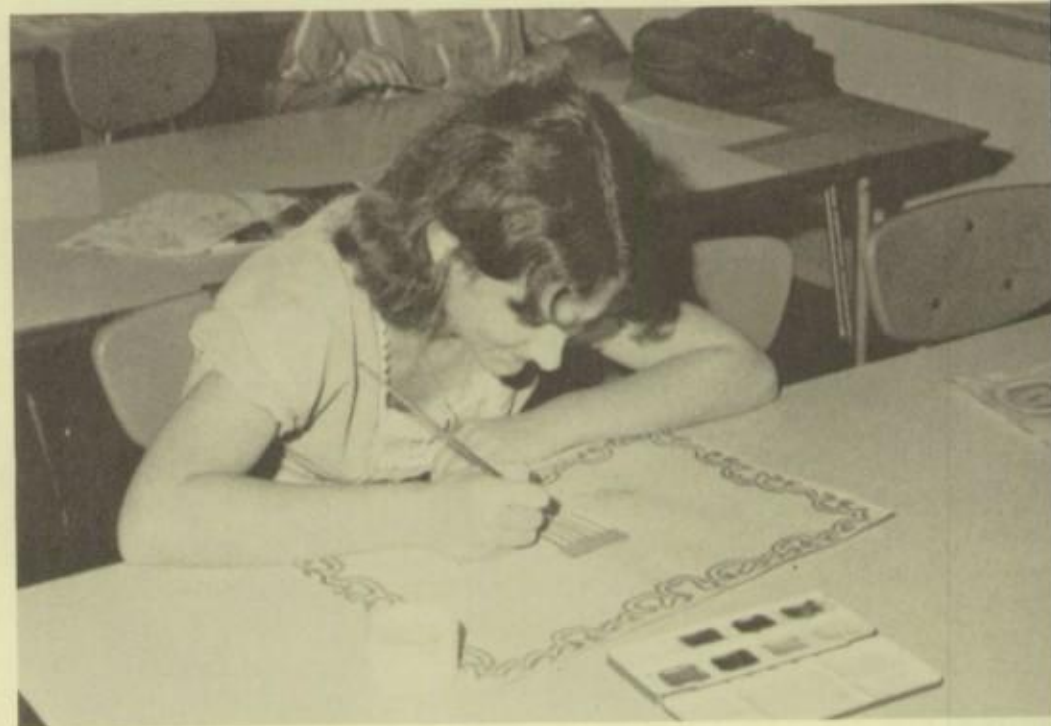

Mr. J.E. Sink

Denton Curriculum Implements Davidson County School Philosophy

The Davidson County School System, of which Denton School is a part, seeks to offer a program that is beneficial to the physical, mental, cultural, and moral growth of all students, encouraging each student to develop every face of his life to the fullest so that he may become a citizen who will be able to cope positively with himself, with society, and with world cultures. To do this, Denton School offers a diversified instructional program commensurate with student needs, interests, and abilities which will prepare him for further education and/or training for employment.

Declaration of Independence

As I come to this last page and the last day of work on this yearbook, I have mixed emotions. I feel happiness that we have met all the deadlines on time and satisfaction that we have put our best thoughts and efforts into the planning and production of this book. There is a feeling of closeness with my co-workers that I have not felt before. I also feel sadness and emptiness because all of the work is done, and with the completion of the yearbook comes the reminder that twelve years of school will soon be over.

I want to express my appreciation to all those who have worked on the yearbook. I can only hope that all the students will like this year's book and that it will cause them to look back upon this year with happy feelings.
